FUND INFORMATION

Fund Objective

The Muamalat Invest Islamic Equity Fund ("the Fund") seeks to achieve capital appreciation over medium to long term period.

Investment Strategy

- The Fund targets an allocation of up to 95% of the Fund's NAV in Shariah-compliant equities and Shariah-compliant equity-related instruments, and a maximum of 30% of the Fund's NAV invested in Islamic money market instruments, Sukuk and/or Islamic liquid assets. The selection of Shariah-compliant equity investments of the Fund will be in line with those in the list of Shariah-compliant securities issued by SAC.
- The selection of Sukuk and Islamic money market instruments will depend largely on its credit quality where the respective issuers of Sukuk and Islamic money market instruments are required to possess strong ability to meet their financial obligations and offer highest safety for timely payment of profit and principal.

Fund's Asset Allocation

- A maximum of 95% of Fund's NAV to be invested in Shariah-compliant equities and equity-related instruments
- A maximum of 30% of Fund's NAV to be invested in Islamic money market instruments, Sukuk and/or Islamic liquid assets

The Fund is suitable for Investors who:

- Seek medium to long term capital appreciation
- Have a medium to long term investment horizon

FUND MANAGER'S COMMENTARY

- In November 2025, the US equity markets delivered mixed results. S&P 500 gained a modest 0.1% extending its monthly winning streak to seven months. Dow Jones Industrial Average (DJIA) rose by approximately 0.3%. While, Nasdaq Composite was the primary laggard, falling about 1.5%, breaking its seven-month winning streak.
- The Asia market experienced decline with the MSCI Asia ex-Japan Index declined 2.90% in November, driven by weakness in tech-heavy markets. Korea's KOSPI fell 4.40% and Taiwan's benchmark index slipped 2.20%, as the AI and semiconductor-led correction continued.
- KLCI was flat at 0.30% as investors were cautious due to corporate results season. In general, earnings were within expectations. Banks continued to demonstrate resilience, while plantation and consumer sectors delivered healthy results .
- Malaysia's 3Q'2025 GDP print came in line with expectations, reaffirming a steady domestic growth trajectory. Less significant negative impact of tighter US trade rules on Malaysia's external trade continues to spurs the growth of GDP.
- Sectoral performance were generally weak in November. Technology recorded the sharpest monthly decline at -8.9%, followed by utilities (-8.3%) and healthcare (-6.8%). In contrast, financials led the market with a 2.5% gain, trailed by property (+2.4%) and plantation (+1.1%).
