ASSET ALLOCATION

FUND MANAGER’S COMMENTARY

- On the local front, the FBMKLCI ended the month of May lower at 1,570.10 points, receding by -1.90% from 1,600.43 points a month earlier. FBM Emas Shariah Index (FBMS Index) also trended lower by -4.26% to 11,509.63 points.
- The Dow Jones index rose by +0.04% to close at 32,990.12 points from 32,977.21 points a month earlier. Meanwhile, the S&P 500 gained slightly by +0.01% in May after slumping by -8.8% in April, its worst month since March 2020. Selling in technology stocks continued causing Nasdaq to tumble by -2.05% during the month.
- Crude oil prices closed higher in May, with WTI crude oil spiked by +9.53% on supply concerns following Ukraine and Russian conflicts.
- Going forward, the performance of Bursa Malaysia will be influenced by external factors, especially the timing and the direction of monetary policy in the U.S. Russia and Ukraine war continue to affect the global supply of major commodities and spike in inflation.
- In light of more uncertainty in the market, we continue to focus more on stock pickings rather than sector allocations. Our strategy is to find long-term winners. Therefore, our picks are the companies that are run by top-notch management and have demonstrated multi-years of exceptional track record. We believe that the new economy will expand further at the expense of the old economy.
