ASSET ALLOCATION

FUND MANAGER’S COMMENTARY

- Going forward, we think BNM has space to reduce the OPR further on next MPC meeting in May. Despite improving confidence in Malaysia’s economic rebound, brought along with rising global outlook, there remains very high bias to risks against a steady economic rebound; foremost being uncertainties with regards to the pandemic, whilst the vaccination process is expected to be a long drawn out process. If a resurgence in the pandemic occurs in the coming months and is followed by an extension of MCO then a pre-emptive move on the OPR may be wise, especially as we know that there is a lag of 2-3 quarters in the transmission effect of a BNM interest rate cut to economic activity.
- In view of the uncertain global economic outlook and volatile market condition, the Manager in its opinion will solely focus on capital preservation exercise and maintaining short to medium cash portfolio with approved financial institutions.
